

Resource

Our COVID Voices

Our Covid Voices is a new National Voices' website where people in the UK can share their experiences of life under lockdown.

Print

The arrival of the COVID-19 virus has made everyday life feel very different. Health and care services are being delivered differently, and many services have stopped altogether. Our ability to take part in our communities and to see friends and family is limited. Everything from food shopping, to home care, to doctors' appointments has changed.

Read how others with RA are coping just lockdown and add your own story to be part of social history for years to come.

Read more

This article was downloaded from www.nras.org.uk. National Rheumatoid Arthritis Society (NRAS) is a registered charity in England and Wales (1134859) and Scotland (SC039721). A private company limited by guarantee. Registered in England and Wales (7127101).