

Resource

Clinical trials

Clinical trials relate to answering specific questions about new therapies, or diagnostic procedures, or new ways of using known treatments.

Web link

Article

Immune-Mediated Inflammatory Diseases (IMID) BioResource

IMIDs are a range of diseases that lack a defined cause, but share responses of inflammation. As part of the IMID BioResource recruitment they will be focusing on a number of areas with rheumatoid arthritis being one of the areas.

If you would like more information on research or would like to sign up to be an active participant click below:

Submit your interest

This article was downloaded from www.nras.org.uk. National Rheumatoid Arthritis Society (NRAS) is a registered charity in England and Wales (1134859) and Scotland (SC039721). A private company limited by guarantee. Registered in England and Wales (7127101).