The main vision of National Voices is to ensure that people are the drivers to shaping health and care decisions. National Voices work together with a number of charities to work together on specific issues to make change. The mission is to advocate for more inclusive and person centred health care.

NRAS makes up one of the 200 charities who form the coalition.

If you have an experience you would like to share relating to person centred care relating to your RA or JIA, please email our campaigns team, campaigns@nras.org.uk with the message subject "NRAS National Voices".
